Before you submit your Shopify app to the App Store and Google Play

Tick every line before you press submit. Apple lists several of these among the most common reasons apps are rejected.

ACCOUNTS

- [ ] Apple Developer Program in your company's name ($99 a year), with your D-U-N-S Number
- [ ] Google Play developer account ($25 once): a company account, or a 14-day closed test with at least 12 testers

STORE LISTING

- [ ] App name checked against apps already in both stores
- [ ] App icon, 1024 × 1024 px for the App Store
- [ ] Screenshots in the sizes each store asks for
- [ ] Description, keywords and a support URL
- [ ] Privacy policy URL
- [ ] Apple App Privacy details and the Google Play Data safety form
- [ ] Age rating questionnaire in both stores

THE APP

- [ ] Products, prices and collections match your store
- [ ] A test order with a discount code, on iPhone and on Android
- [ ] Subscription skip, swap and pause work, if you sell subscriptions
- [ ] A push notification opens the right screen
- [ ] No placeholder text or images left anywhere
- [ ] A demo login for reviewers, if any part of the app needs an account
